Hi, Evan.

I've spent quite a bit of time getting some information organized and not as much time using the site.

I've attached two of documents:

1. Content for a Resources page for the site.
2. Additional content for the site (some of which is already on there, but I've modified), answers to your questions from our last meeting (bold red font), and some additional questions for you (bold red font highlighted in yellow).

I have gotten approval to hire a Work Study student for some of the administrative tasks I need help with. If this is successful, I can redirect the "additional student support" category from my budget to you! 😊 It's only $350, but as I mentioned before, it's also possible that I won't need all the money budgeted in other categories and can redirect some of that to you, too.

Thanks so much for everything thus far. I'm getting really excited about our progress! Should we set up another meeting or a deadline for testing?

Subject: CARE Collective Status Overview

Hi Maureen,

Thank you for taking the time to meet with me today!

As promised, I've attached the status overview document (in two formats .md and .docx) that covers what we discussed in our meeting today. Do not feel rushed in your response, I understand your current workload. Feel free to reach out for clarification on any points.

I am super excited to see this project come together!

Best,
