I really like the layout of this website. It's easy to use and find things. Here are some issues I found.

- When I first logged in, I got this error message, but the site still worked:

- The first time I tried to make a request, the "create request" was greyed out. I went on to do some other tasks, and when I returned to this one, it let me make the request. I'd done nothing differently from the first attempt to the successful attempt.

- I got this message when I tried to reply to another person's request:

The screenshot shows a messaging interface. On the left, there's a sidebar with 'Messages' (Active 0, Pending 1), 'Pending Offers (1)' (Review offers from community members who want to help), and a message from 'Terry Barakat' (awaiting response, Springfield, MO). The main area shows a conversation with Terry Barakat:

- Terry Barakat: David will do it :)
- For: Climb a 3-step stepstool
- (Sent 1 minute ago)
- (Waiting for Terry Barakat to respond)

To the right, there's a message from Christy: Hey girl. You good? A note says: This conversation is pending. You can send messages once the recipient accepts your offer to help.

I hope this helps,

Christy
